

Randolph Corner

7.9 or 11.6 mile Loop

(Revised 020712 JSchatz)

Beaver Dam Farm on Unison Road.

Scenic farm views around Randolph Corner.

This gravel road loop passes through the quiet Virginia hamlets of Randolph Corner, Willisville and South Fork and is a treat for those runners who like open spaces, expansive horse farms, old stone fence lined roads, stream crossings (NLT 3 bridges over Beaverdam Creek) and great views of the nearby Blue Ridge Mountains. It connects with corners of both the Philomont Alternate and Unison club runs thus allowing additional connecting LRR circuits to be easily added for the long haulers. The course is mildly hilly like a kid-age roller coaster ride (a hill rating of 2 out of 4) with a gradual downhill section and scenic farm on your right .4 miles past the left turn onto Willisville Road (running counter close wise). Runners can add another 3.7 miles to their journey by following the blue leg through Saint Louis (see attached map) for a grand total of 11.6 miles.
